Thank you

As we start a new year we want to thank you for working with and trusting us as your business partners. Our focus for 2015 remains helping you to meet the employment challenges that arise in your workplace by providing you with guidance and outstanding service so that you can focus on your business.

Wishing you and yours a healthy and prosperous new year.

Nina and Justine

A New Year's Tip

As we begin 2015, we want to remind our clients that there have been many changes to employment laws that go into effect over the course of 2015, which could affect your business. These include the new minimum wage, the Domestic Violence Leave Law, Paid Sick Leave, and the just-enacted Parental Leave Law. If you are a federal contractor, there are also new Executive Orders.

We want to make sure that your personnel policies are up to date, including handbooks, written policies and posters, to reflect new laws and changes in the law in 2015.

We will be reaching out individually to you over the next month to discuss how we can assist you in making sure your policies are up to date.

*Happy New Year
from Kimball Brousseau*
